Dream Network Journal has a diverse readership, all of whom share a strong interest in dreams and ways to learn from them. We also review books and other media that discuss mythology, psychology, cross-cultural perspectives and a broad array of other dream related topics.

We would greatly appreciate if you would send us 2 copies of each item noted for review: one to the reviewer and one directly to our main office. Publishers of all items reviewed in the Journal will be sent a copy of the issue in which your review appears.

In addition to publishing a printed review of the items sent, we offer affordable Ad Rates and offer additional exposure on our website. See <http://DreamNetwork.net/> > Advertise With Us for details.

If your company publishes other items that may be of interest to our readers, please send along review copies now or upon publication. We will consider books, calendars, tapes, CD's, videos, card decks or any other dream or mythology related products.

Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,
